

CALL FOR PAPERS

16th DYNARE CONFERENCE

30th June – 1st July 2022 – Lancaster University Management School (LUMS)

The 16th annual Dynare Conference will be held in person at LUMS, UK from 30th June to 1st July 2022. The conference is organized by the Department of Economics, LUMS together with Banque de France, DSGE-net, and the Dynare project at CEPREMAP.

Keynote speakers will be Jan Eeckhout (University of Pompeu Fabra) and Silvana Tenreyro (London School of Economics, Bank of England). Both the Keynote speakers will deliver a plenary session.

Paper Submission

All papers should be submitted electronically using our submission form no later than midnight UK time on 6th March 2022.

Authors will be notified with regard to the outcome of their papers no later than 15th April 2022.

The Dynare conference will feature the work of leading scholars in dynamic macroeconomic modeling and provide an excellent opportunity to present your research results.

Topics of this conference edition will focus on:-

- Heterogeneity in households, firms, information, expectations, banks, housing, and financial intermediaries
- Structural Changes due to Market Power, Automation, Digitalization, Productivity
- Monetary and Fiscal Policies in models with Disaster Shocks, Covid Shock, Uncertainty Shocks. Inequality, Non-linearities, and Asymmetries.

Submissions of papers dealing with different aspects of General Equilibrium modeling and computational methods are also welcomed. Papers using software tools other than Dynare and theoretical contributions are also encouraged.

Accepted papers will be automatically considered for publication in the Dynare Working Paper series conditional on the agreement of the author(s). Note that publication in the Dynare Working Paper series does not prohibit submission to another working paper series.
