

Mary Jane Abrahams

MA in Curriculum Design, is a Chilean English teacher and teacher educator with expertise in Practicum and English Teaching Methodology. She was President of TESOLChile for 14 years and participated in The Unit of Curriculum Design and Evaluation from the Chilean Ministry of Education and in the English Opens Doors programme which aims to support and foster English learning in schools in Chile. Member of the team who designed the first set of Chilean English Teacher Training Standards (MINEDUC, 2014) and then again in 2018. At present Head of the English Department in Universidad Alberto Hurtado in Santiago.

The talk will focus on the process followed to update the 2014 Chilean English Teacher Training Standards, project carried out during the year 2018. The updating of these standards did not only involve the discipline and the pedagogy of English teaching, but also the skills needed to manage oneself in the XXI century, such as team work, critical thinking, creativity, a sense of social justice. The talk will also open the discussion to the impact of these Standards in the Chilean National Curriculum, the teacher education programmes curricula and the language and assessment policies in the country.